Guide to the plebiscite on a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions for Cork City

24 MAY 2019

Introduction

On Friday, 24 May 2019, voting takes place nationally in the European and Local Elections and the referendum on the regulation of divorce. On the same day, the electors of the administrative area of Cork City Council will also be asked to vote on the Government's proposal for a Lord Mayor with executive functions to be directly elected by the people.

This public vote is called a plebiscite. A plebiscite is an electoral poll consulting the public on a proposal. Plebiscites on the same issue will take place in Waterford and Limerick on the same day.

In this plebiscite, electors will be asked if they approve of the proposal that would allow the people of Cork City to directly elect a Lord Mayor with executive functions for a five-year term. At present, the Lord Mayor of Cork City is elected for a one-year term by other Councillors. Under the Government's proposal, the directly elected Lord Mayor would have significantly more functions (duties) than a Lord Mayor currently has, including:

- (a) Some or all of the functions now performed by the Chief Executive of the City Council
- (b) Such other functions as may be provided by or under statute

These functions (duties) are currently carried out by the Chief Executive of the Council.

The Local Government Act 2019 provides for the holding of the plebiscite. The Government decided it would be held on 24 May 2019. Under the 2019 Act, if the proposal is approved by a majority of voters in Cork City, the Minister will submit a report to the Oireachtas with legislative proposals for an election of a Lord Mayor by the people of Cork City. The Oireachtas will then consider the legislation. If the law is passed, a direct election for Lord Mayor of Cork with executive functions will take place.

If the proposal is not approved by a majority of voters in Cork City, the current balance of powers and functions in Cork City Council will not be changed without legislation.

The Local Government Act 2019 provides that Cork City Council must provide information to voters on this proposal, including on its possible advantages and disadvantages. This Guide provides this information.

Other information on the plebiscite is available at:
www.mayors.gov.ie

This guide does not argue for a Yes vote or a No vote.

■ How local Government in Cork City currently works

Cork City Council is responsible for providing a wide range of services (over 500) to the people it serves, in accordance with over 80 Acts of the Oireachtas. Many of these relate to:

- planning
- housing
- economic development
- transport and other infrastructure
- environmental control and emergency services
- amenities, libraries and recreation
- arts, heritage and culture
- community development

The Council has 31 elected Councillors and over 1,250 staff. In 2019, Cork City Council plans to spend €167m in providing day-to-day services in the Council's area and a further €300m on capital and infrastructural projects.

Councillors are elected for a five-year term by the electors within the administrative area of the City Council. The elected Council is led by a Lord Mayor, who is elected at an annual meeting by the other City Councillors, for a one-year term.

The Chief Executive leads and manages administrative structures and staff and is responsible for the day-to-day running of the Council. The Chief Executive is also responsible for implementing the policies of Government, and preparing and presenting local policies to the elected Council.

The Council has two categories of functions (responsibilities). The elected Council's functions are known as 'reserved functions'. The Chief Executive's functions are known as 'executive functions'. Any function of Cork City Council that is not explicitly defined as a 'reserved function' is an 'executive function'.

The elected Council's reserved functions include:

- adopting the Council's annual budget (by way of vote)
- adopting Council policies
- altering the Local Property Tax rate
- making a City Development Plan
- deciding the annual rate on valuation for Commercial Rates
- selling or disposing of Council land
- approval of grant schemes
- adoption of a Corporate Plan and a Service Delivery Plan

The Chief Executive's executive functions include:

- any function not explicitly reserved for the elected Council
- preparing policy documents for consideration by Council
- managing staff and delivery of services
- managing and accounting for the Council's finances
- delivering a statutory monthly report to full Council (Council meetings are held in public and in the presence of the media)
- administering housing schemes and allocating social housing
- managing infrastructure projects
- deciding planning applications
- allocation of grants
- ensuring the law is complied with in relation to areas such as Health & Safety, EU directives, etc.
- preparing and overseeing the delivery of the Corporate Plan and Annual Service Delivery Plan under direction of Council

The Mayor

In Cork City, the mayor is called the Lord Mayor and is a serving Councillor elected by the elected Council for a one-year term. As Lord Mayor, they have additional duties such as:

- chairing Council and Corporate Policy Group meetings and exercising a casting vote
- requesting information from the Chief Executive
- representing the Council locally, nationally and internationally

The Government's proposal: a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions

Directly elected Lord Mayor

Under the Government's proposals, a directly elected Lord Mayor would be elected as chair of the Council by the entire electorate of Cork City. The directly elected Lord Mayor would:

- be responsible for a significant amount of the executive functions currently the responsibility of a Chief Executive
- prepare and oversee delivery of a 'Programme of Office', 'Corporate Plan' and 'Annual Service Delivery Plan'
- be responsible for ensuring that the Chief Executive implements the Council's plans effectively
- act on behalf of the Council in legal actions
- chair the joint policing committee
- represent the entire local authority area locally, nationally and internationally

A directly elected Lord Mayor would have a five-year term of office and could serve a maximum of two terms.

Chief Executive

Under the Government's proposals, the Chief Executive would be responsible for practical delivery of the Council's policy plans and managing the Council's staff and other resources on a day-to-day basis. The Chief Executive would still have certain executive functions such as:

- managing staff and delivering the Council's work programme
- processing individual cases or applications
- enforcement matters
- revenue gathering activities
- certain planning functions

Elected Council

The elected Council would:

- exercise reserved functions
- oversee the Lord Mayor's and Chief Executive's performance
- in certain circumstances, begin a process to remove a Lord Mayor from office
- be able to begin a process for the recall of a Lord Mayor by the people of Cork City

Lord Mayor's programme of office

Under the Government's proposal, at the start of their term of office, a Lord Mayor would submit a 'Programme for Office' to the elected Council for approval. Once approved, the programme would guide Council policy. The Chief Executive would manage the resources of the Council to effectively implement the 'Programme of Office'.

Other details of the Government's proposal

Election

If the proposal for a directly elected Lord Mayor is approved in this plebiscite, the Minister for Housing, Planning and Local Government would be required to present a report within two years to the Oireachtas with proposals for legislation. The Government has said in its policy proposals paper that if the legislation was enacted, the first election for a directly elected Lord Mayor could take place in 2022. This would be for an initial two-year term. The first five-year mayoral term would then coincide with the next five-year cycle of local elections for Councillors (that is 2024-2029).

Costs

Given the role proposed for a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions, the Government proposal is for a salary of about €130,000 (that of a Minister of State). Under the proposals, a directly elected Lord Mayor would have the right to appoint two advisers. While the full precise costs are unknown, the additional costs of the Government's proposals to establish an office of directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions could range from around €313,000 to around €450,000. (These estimates do not include possible pension-related costs for the Lord Mayor or two advisors). These costs would be met from Cork City Council's resources.

Relationship between a directly elected Lord Mayor and other statutory bodies

It is expected that the relationship between any future directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions and other statutory bodies (public organisations established in law) that exercise statutory functions in Cork City (for example, national transport services or infrastructure providers) would be the same as that which currently exists between a Chief Executive of Cork City Council and those bodies.

Likely effect (if any) of having a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions on the functions and organisational structure of any other statutory body

It is not expected that having a directly elected Lord Mayor, as envisaged in the Government's policy paper, would have any material effect on the functions and organisational structure of any other statutory body. The Government's policy paper suggests that the directly elected Lord Mayor could have a role in regional strategic spatial planning and have a seat on the Southern Regional Assembly.

Possible advantages and disadvantages

The full consequences of introducing a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions are not completely clear.

Possible advantages of having a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions

- The Lord Mayor would be directly and democratically accountable to the people of Cork City
- The mayoral election campaign could raise awareness of and increase public debate on local government policy options in advance of decisions being made
- Increased visibility of local government and the role of Lord Mayor in Cork City
- A directly elected Lord Mayor could advocate for increased functions for Cork City Council

There may be other possible advantages that are not listed in this guide.

Possible disadvantages of having a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions

- Increased power in a single elected individual and their office
- Negative impact on the powers and standing of existing elected members
- Increased costs for the Council
- A more complicated process for the Council to make policies and decisions

There may be other possible disadvantages that are not listed in this guide.

Possible effects of a YES or a NO vote

Possible effects of a YES vote

- The Minister for Housing, Planning and Local Government would prepare and submit to each House of the Oireachtas a report with proposals for enacting a law providing for a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions for Cork City.
- The Houses of the Oireachtas will not be legally required to pass any draft law presented to it by the Minister for Housing, Planning and Local Government.
- If legislation was passed by both Houses of the Oireachtas and signed by the President, the Government would facilitate an election for a directly elected Lord Mayor with executive functions.

Possible effects of a NO vote

- The current structure of local government, including the division of responsibilities between the reserved functions of elected representatives and the executive functions of the Chief Executive, would remain the same in Cork City Council.
- The Government and members of the Oireachtas would retain the ability to produce legislation for a directly elected Lord Mayor and bring it before both Houses of the Oireachtas.

Sonraí eile maidir leis an togra ón Rialtas

Toghchán

Má cheadaítear an togra le haghaidh Ard-Mhéara dírhofa sa phobalbhreith seo, bheadh ceangal ar an Aire Tithíochta, Pleanála agus Rialtais Áitiúil tuarascáil a chur i láthair an Oireachtais laistigh de dhá bhliain le moltaí le haghaidh reachtaíochta. Dúirt an Rialtas ina pháipéar um thograí beartais dá n-achtófaí an reachtaíocht, go mbeadh an chéad toghchán le haghaidh Ard-Mhéara dírhofa ar siúl in 2022. Bheadh sé sin ar feadh téarma dhá bhliain ar dtús. Bheadh céad téarma cúig bliana na méarachta i gcomhthráth leis an gcéad timhriall cúig bliana eile de thoghcháin le haghaidh comhairleoirí (is é sin 2024-2029).

Costais

Ag cur san áireamh an ról atá beartaithe le haghaidh Ard-Mhéara dírhofa ag a mbeadh feidhmeanna feidhmiúcháin, is é moladh an Rialtais ná tuarastal thart ar €130,000 (tuarastal Aire Stáit). Faoi na tograí, bheadh an ceart ag an Ard-Mhéara dírhofa chun dhá chomhairleoir a cheapadh. Cé nach fios na costais beachta iomláine, d'fhéadfadh costais breise tograí an Rialtais oifig Ard-Mhéara dhírhofa le feidhmeanna feidhmiúcháin a bhunú dul ó thart ar €313,000 go dtí thart ar €450,000. (Níl costais a bhaineann le pinsean a d'fhéadfadh teacht aníos don Ard-Mhéara nó do dhá chomhairleoir áirithe sna meastacháin seo). Gheofaí maoiniú do na costais seo ó acmhainní Chomhairle Cathrach Chorcaí.

An gaol idir Ard-Mhéara dírhofa agus comhlachtaí reachtúla eile

Táthar ag súil go mbeadh an gaol idir Ard-Mhéara dírhofa le feidhmeanna feidhmiúcháin ar bith amach anseo agus comhlachtaí reachtúla eile (eagraíochtaí poiblí a bunaíodh le dlí) a fheidhmíonn feidhmeanna reachtúil i gCathair Chorcaí (mar shampla, seirbhísí iompair náisiúnta nó soláthraithe bonneagair) mar an gcéanna leis an ngaol atá ann faoi láthair idir Príomhfheidhmeannach Chomhairle Cathrach Chorcaí agus na comhlachtaí sin.

An éifeacht dhóchúil (más ann di) a bhainfeadh le hArd-Mhéara dírhofa le feidhmeanna feidhmiúcháin a bheith ann ar fheidhmeanna agus struchtúr eagraíochtúil comhlachta reachtúil eile

Níltear ag súil go mbeadh éifeacht ábhartha ar bith a bhainfeadh le hArd-Mhéara dírhofa a bheith ann, arna bheartú i bpáipéar beartais an Rialtais, ar fheidhmeanna agus struchtúr eagraíochtúil comhlachta reachtúil eile. Tugtar le tuiscint i bpáipéar an Rialtais go bhféadfadh ról a bheith ag an Ard-Mhéara dírhofa maidir le pleanáil spásúil straitéiseach réigiúnach agus suíochán a bheith aige nó aice i dTionól Réigiúnach an Deiscirt.

Buntáistí agus míbhuntáistí a d'fhéadfadh a bheith i gceist

Níl na hiarmhairtí iomlána a bhaineann le hArd-Mhéara dírhofa le feidhmeanna feidhmiúcháin a thabhairt isteach go hiomlán soiléir.

Na buntáistí a d'fhéadfadh a bheith i gceist le hArd-Mhéara dírhofa le feidhmeanna feidhmiúcháin a bheith ann
